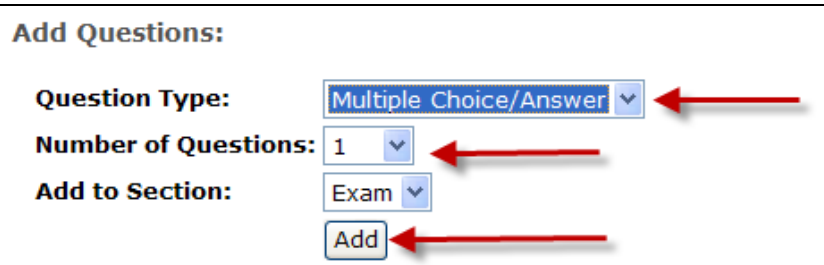
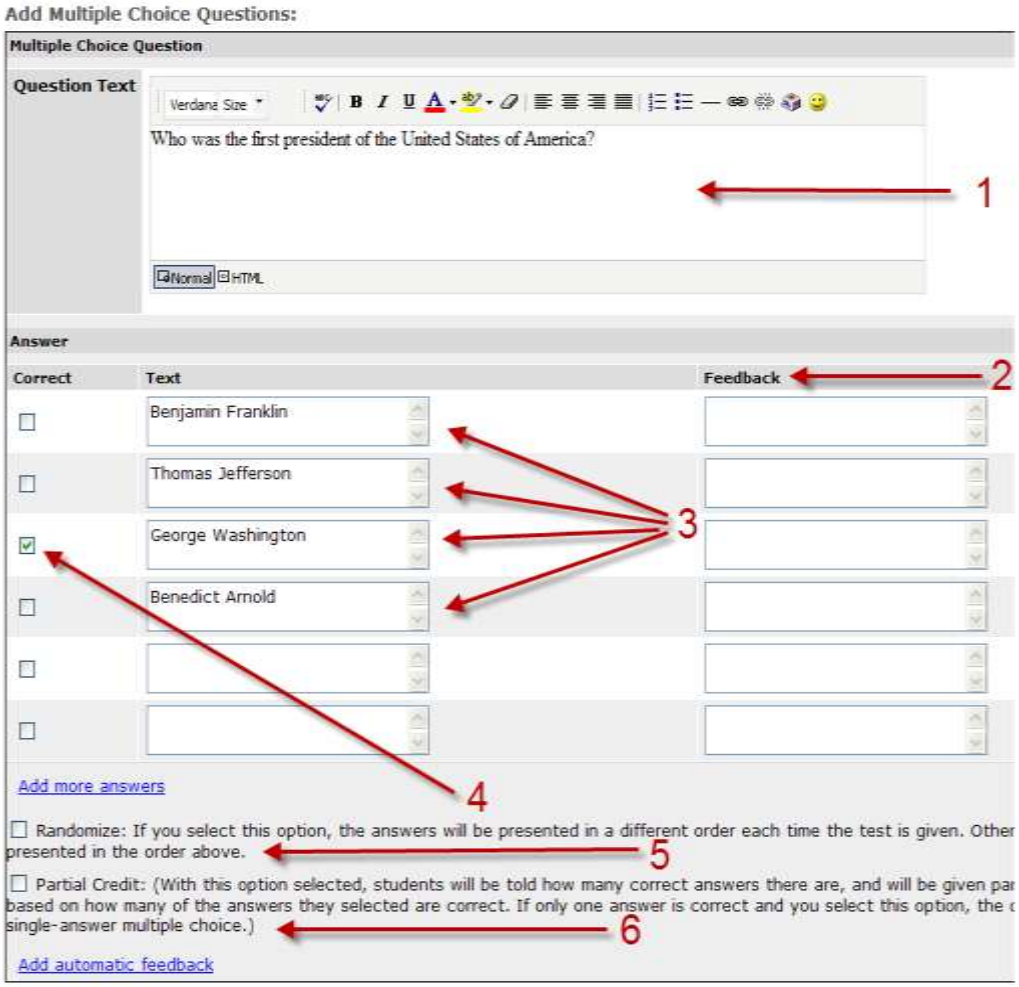
Adding a Multiple Choice Question to an Online Assignment

This document is a supplement to Adding an Online Assignment to Coursework document. This document will explain multiple choice questions.

In the Test Builder Add Questions area:

1. Multiple Choice will already be selected from the drop down list.
2. Choose the number of questions (up to 5 at a time) to add.
3. Click Add.





Adding a Multiple Choice Question to an Online Assignment

1. Type your questions into the text box.
2. You can provide feedback here for different answers
3. Type your answers here
4. Put a check mark by the correct answer
5. Randomize – check the box if you want to randomize the answers.

   Note: be careful about the wording of your answers if you randomize them. Specifically, the answer 'all of the above' because it may appear as the first answer. We recommend using 'all the answers are correct' instead of 'all of the above.'

6. Partial Credit – check the box if there is more than one correct answer and you wish to give partial credit to students.

7. You can set automatic feedback for the assignment if you want.

   Click on the automatic feedback section to set feedback for the assignment. You can set feedback for general information that will be displayed during review, for correct answers, and for incorrect answers.

When you are done adding questions, you will have two options for saving.

1) You can click Save and not add more questions (you can add more later if necessary)
2) You can opt to save the questions you have entered and to enter more.
