COVERAGE & REIMBURSEMENT
iNext policies are secondary to coverage participants may have individually or through their family or school. In general, claims are paid on a reimbursement basis. There are contingencies for direct payment in serious cases provided the care facility can process payment. Coverage only applies outside of the U.S. (Students without primary coverage can contact Garner & Glover, 706-291-7380, to discuss a policy.) A list of iNext benefits is also located under “Group Insurance Information” in the lower side-bar of www.berry.edu/academics/study/summerIP/. Berry also has coverage for Political and Natural Disaster Evacuation (see further in this document).

OTHER OPTIONS
iNext cards are not required; however, they may be purchased by participants for $2.50. Participants may also purchase trip delay/cancellation insurance for an additional $95. These options are offered in the welcome email.

Evacuation Information
There are a few possible events that could take place to enact coverage. These are:

1) The US Department of State issues a travel warning recommending that US citizens leave the country or region.
   or
2) The recognized host country government:
   a. Declares a state of emergency necessitating immediate evacuation
   b. Formally recommends that the insured leave the country or region for safety
   c. Seizes, confiscates, or expropriates the insured or their property
   d. Expels the insured or declares them “persona non grata”
   e. Withholds all schedule international commercial flights for a period of more than 24 hours as a result of political or military action which has a direct impact on the insured’s safety and prevents them from leaving the country
3) Natural Disaster within the host country which has a direct impact on the insured’s safety
4) The political or military events in the host country represents an imminent threat to the insured’s safety

Should one of these qualifying events occur, your trip leaders or participants (or even another representative if your participants cannot personally make contact) would contact the Seven Corners Crisis Management Call Center at 001-443-569-0217. A representative at the crisis call center would require some basic policy details and information about the insured’s whereabouts, safety, and policy details to triage the claim. From there, the next steps will depend on what the situation demands. A security consultant will work with your participants to arrange a safe meeting/waiting place, accommodations, travel, food and any other reasonable and necessary expenses as the situation requires. Depending on the nature of the event, your participants may be asked to wait safely in place for a short time or to gather at a central meeting place for transport. Evacuation will take place as soon as is reasonably possible to the nearest safe location as determined by the security consultant.
