MINOR IN:
Women’s and Gender Studies

Interested in women’s rights, gender equality, LGBTQIA+ rights, racial equality, wage equality, masculinity studies, diversity, social activism, or any combination of the above? If so, consider adding a minor in Women’s and Gender Studies (WNS). As an interdisciplinary program, WNS is the perfect addition for a student from any discipline looking to make an impact in the world.

Upcoming Courses (Spring 2016):
- Human Sexuality w/ Dr. Pynn
- Social Inequality w/ Dr. Allred
- Gender in Anthropology w/ Dr. Lewinson
- Social Innovation and the Psychology of Poverty w/ Dr. Dexter
- Women’s Studies Seminar w/ Dr. Conradsen
- Psychology of Women w/ Dr. Conradsen
- Intro to Women’s Studies w/ Dr. Conradsen

(Summer 2016):
- Social Activism w/ Dr. Conradsen
- Mothering Seminar w/ Dr. Conradsen

To receive a minor in Women’s and Gender Studies, students must take 2 required courses (WNS 210: Intro to Women’s Studies and WNS 412: Seminar in Women’s Studies) in addition to 12 hours of WNS courses of the student’s choice. Students are permitted to double count up to 2 courses for credit in both the major and minor subject.

Students who declare a minor in Women’s and Gender Studies also receive the added benefit of joining a growing community of students on campus united in making a difference. In an effort to build this community further, minors also receive exclusive access to special events and resources throughout the year.

For more information on the program, as well as further resources related to graduate school, internships, and job opportunities, please visit our website at http://www.berry.edu/womens_studies/

If you are interested in declaring a minor in Women’s and Gender Studies, please contact Dr. Susan Conradsen @ sconradsen.berry.edu or drop by her office in the Psych Suite (Cook 338).

Also be sure to check us out on Facebook and Tumblr! Links can be found via our website.