

	Film and Documentary
Full Event Title	Look & See Film Screening and Panel Discussion
Sponsoring Academic Department or Administrative Office	Office of the Chaplain
Name of Faculty or Staff Member Sponsoring Event	Jonathan Huggins
Sponsor's Email	jhuggins@berry.edu
Sponsor's Phone	7063782878
Date of Event	Wednesday, November 1, 2017
Time of Event	6:30 pm - 8:30 pm
Name of Presenter(s)	Dean Tom Kennedy, Dr. Jordan Rowan Fannin, Dr. Brian Campbell
Estimated Duration in Hours/Minutes	2 hours
Location of Event	Krannert Ballroom
Event Type	Film and Documentary
Film and Documentary Summary	This film attempts to look through the eyes of Wendell Berry, writer, poet, teacher, and farmer, and see the stories of small generational farmers in Henry County, KY, as a way to better understand the struggles, hopes, and vital importance of rural land-based communities.
Film and Documentary Participation	Following the film, there will be a panel discussion where Dean Tom Kennedy, Dr. Jordan Rowan Fannin, and Dr. Brian Campbell will offer their reflections and thoughts about the film. There will also be a short time for students to ask any questions about the film or contribute their own thoughts to the discussion.
Film and Documentary Purpose	This film and panel discussion provides students an opportunity to make contact with the issues and personalities of contemporary, particularly rural America, promote moral and ethical reasoning, and enables students to participate as fully as possible in the intellectual and spiritual tradition of Berry College.
Film and Documentary Credentials	Wendell Berry, writer, poet, teacher, farmer, and outspoken citizen of an endangered world, gives us a compelling vision of the good and true life. Passionate, eloquent, and painfully articulate, in more than fifty works – novels, short stories, poems and essays -- he celebrates a life lived in close communion with neighbors and the earth while

	addressing many of our most urgent cultural problems. A fierce and caring critic of American culture and a long-time trusted guide for those seeking a better, healthier, saner world, he has farmed a hillside in his native Henry County, Kentucky, together with his wife, for more than forty years. Dean Tom Kennedy is the Dean of Evans School of Humanities, Professor of Philosophy, and Assistant Provost of Administration at Berry College. Dr. Jordan Rowan Fannin is an Assistant Professor of Religion and Philosophy at Berry College and she specializes in theology of place. Dr. Brian Campbell is an Associate Professor of Anthropology &amp; Environmental Studies at Berry College.
Film and Documentary Copyright Law	The film is available in the public domain. Look &amp; See Film: http://lookandseefilm.com/
Film and Documentary Discussion	The qualified presenter(s) will speak on the topic for at least 10 minutes prior to or following the showing of the film/documentary and then allow for a brief question and answer period