

Directions to Berry College Pew Observatory

- Begin on the main campus of Berry College.
- Drive North on Lavender Mountain Road (aka Stretch Road) to the mountain campus.
- When you reach the stop sign at the end of Lavender Mountain you will be facing the Winshape Center. Turn left at this stop sign.
- You will come to an intersection with the Winshape Retreat on your right and the Gunby Equine Center on your left. Straight ahead is a gate that lead to Possum Trot Road (a gravel road). Pass through the gate and continue straight on Possum Trot Road.
- The observatory consists of two small buildings on a hill to your right as you drive on Possum Trot Road.
- Turn onto the dirt driveway leading up to the observatory buildings and park in the grass outside the observatory. Please dim your headlights, if possible, as you enter the observatory grounds.
- If you reach Possum Trot Church you have gone too far on Possum Trot Road. Turn around and head back toward the Winshape Center. Now the observatory is on your left.
- You can also consult the maps below. The map on the left shows a large-scale view of Berry's campus with the location of the observatory marked. The map on the right is a detail of the mountain campus. The observatory is labeled with the number 17, while the Winshape Center is 1, the Winshape Retreat is 16, and the Gunby Equine Center is 19.
